

TRADITION has it that the first Thanksgiving took place in 1621, when the Plymouth settlers shared a meal celebrating the harvest with their Native allies. But it wasn't until 1789 that President George Washington officially named Thursday until Abraham Lincoln's famous